

Dear Mr. Syracuse,

It's much too early. Regulation WILL NOT help consumers at this time. We need startups to grow and fill this space to create enough competition among them, and thereby creating real choices for consumers, before we begin to have them be regulated. Limiting the field to just a few big players who can afford to be in compliance with the proposed reg, is not beneficial at this time.

Sincerely, Jacob Whiting

