

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

BitLicense

Even if you pass this abortion of common-sense and freedom, how will you enforce it? The best you can do is make fools of yourselves and expose what an impotent extremist totalitarian nazi-fest you've become.

I live in Florida. I dare you to come and get me. I will not obey your laws even if you pretend yourself able to stretch your authority out of your jurisdiction.

Hell, I wouldn't obey it even if I were dumb enough to live within your jurisdiction. How many dozens of millions of people do you think you can extradite and cage up?

Cash? Maybe we should make cash illegal... It's totally the anonymous and stuffs! Cash is for drugs! Cash is for guns! (which are not illegal, at least not where I live) You believe your own propagandist lies, but we the people are not falling for it anymore.

You people are utterly ridiculous. The time for Separation of Money and State has come, and you're not going to stop it. You evil bastards have brought it upon yourselves. This is the natural evolution that grows out of your extreme oppression. When you rob people of their freedom and humanity, they take it back. Life always finds a way no matter how hard you demented psychos fight to destroy it.

It's clear you're not even literate enough on the concept to make a law that even makes sense. You have no hope. This desperate attempt to maintain your stranglehold on people's lives and income only displays you as the demented tyrants that you are. You're playing right into our hands. You're showing the world how evil and desperate you are.

The harder you squeeze, the more slips through your fingers. You're guaranteeing your own extinction.

You will lose. We the People will not tolerate you.