Hello,

I want to comment on the proposal to 'regulate' bitcoin by NY for the purpose of combatting money laundering. It is my understanding you have an attorney general? Perhaps you could entice him to move against all major banking entities in NY, and, perhaps even in the USA for money laundering. I believe all major banking institutions in the USA have paid and some still paying what amounts to annual fines for just that. They pay this money to stay out of court. It seems to me they are now paying to squash bit coin. Maybe I am wrong, do you really think so?

Regards

Terry
