

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

Talk about stifling innovation. You would kill the thing when it's barely born. On the scale of the ridiculous this is right up there with the CIA making everything top secret because they don't want to think about it or have to explain to anybody. The rules should benefit the public, not burden them.

Bill